3RD DISTRICT COMMUNITY PROSECUTION UPDATE

UPDATE ON THE SCARBOROUGH CASE: As you may recall, Gregory Scarborough, the so-called "Second Story Man," pled guilty to three burglaries and a receiving stolen property charge. Citing his need for drug treatment, Judge Winfield sentenced Scarborough to 18 years' incarceration, suspended all of that time and put Scarborough on two years' probation with a requirement that he complete a 120-day inpatient drug treatment program. Judge Winfield cautioned Scarborough that if he violated any terms of his probation, he could receive the full 18-year sentence. Less than a month after receiving that caution, Scarborough tested positive for illegal drugs. At a hearing held on December 19th, Judge Winfield revoked Scarborough's probation and ordered him to serve the full 18 years in jail.

- (11) Prohibiting persons under 18 from obtaining materials that can be used to create graffiti except under supervision.

THE COURT REPORT

Although crime is down slightly in the Third District this year (and burglaries are down by about 20%), we did not finish well. We've had four murders in the last three weeks of the year to bring the year's total to 16, the same as last year. So far, eight of these 16 have been closed with arrests but I expect that others, especially some of the four that just occurred, could be closed soon. In addition, robberies are up in most parts of the Third District. Let's hope that 2004 will prove to be a more peaceful year! We'll continue to work with MPD and citizens to make the Third District a safer place.

Kenneth Philpot, 24, of the 200 block of V Street, N.W., was sentenced on December 1, 2003 before Judge Wertheim in the Superior Court of the District of Columbia to 180 days of incarceration after being convicted of Possession of Cocaine by Judge Wertheim on October 16, 2003, in Case No. M-7026-03. Judge Wertheim ordered that Philpot's sentence run consecutively to the 18 months that he is presently serving after his probation was revoked on his conviction for PWID Heroin in F-7365-00 following his arrest in M-7026-03 (Case No. M-7026-03; PSA 303)

FACTS: On August 15, 2003 at approximately 1600 hours in the 2200 block of First Street, N.W., MPD Officer Flemming, while off-duty, observed Defendant Philpot engage in a drug sale. Officer Flemming then called the MPD to report the drug sale and provided a lookout for both the defendant and the buyer. MPD Officers responded to the scene where they were directed by Officer Flemming both to the defendant's location as well as the location of his stash. After the defendant was positively identified by Officer Flemming, he attempted to flee but was stopped and placed under arrest. The stash contained 6 zips of crack cocaine. The buyer was stopped a block away and searched with negative results. AUSA Perham Gorji tried the case and AUSA Ariadne Goerke represented the government at sentencing.

Paul E. Hammond, age 58, of Hyattsville, Maryland, was sentenced in United States District Court to 240 months for one count of armed robbery and 115 months for one count of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. The Honorable Henry H. Kennedy, Jr. ordered that the sentences be served consecutively (Case No. F-2420-02; PSA 304).

FACTS: On August 1, 2003, Hammond pled guilty to these crimes. According to the facts recited by Assistant United States Attorney Susan Menzer, on April 15, 2002, at approximately 1:00 p.m., Hammond and another individual, who has not been apprehended, robbed the owner of a clothing store, located at 1722 Florida Avenue, N.W. (PSA 304). After the defendant and the suspect entered the store, the suspect put the handgun to the owner's head while Hammond took $400 from the owner. Fearing for his life, the owner began to struggle with Hammond and the suspect. The owner managed to knock the handgun from the suspect's hand. The three men then fought to gain control over the handgun. Hammond and the suspect hit the owner numerous times in the head with objects, including a metal pole. The owner nevertheless managed to remove the magazine from the handgun and push it away. Hammond picked up the handgun from the floor and the owner reported to the police that the defendant put the handgun to his head and pulled the trigger two times while the suspect yelled "shoot him."

Hammond told Judge Kennedy that he did not put the handgun to the store owner, but fled with the handgun after he noticed the magazine was no longer inside.

When Hammond and the suspect fled, they went in different directions. The owner pursued Hammond, pointing at him and screaming to civilians on the street that Hammond had a gun. Since the Third District Police station was around the corner from the clothing store, Hammond was quickly apprehended. In addition to the handgun, the officers seized the $400 that Hammond had taken from the owner. Crime scene search officers seized additional evidence from inside the clothing store, including the magazine from the handgun and a tan flop hat that the owner had identified as belonging to Hammond.

In announcing the sentence, U.S. Attorney Howard and Chief Ramsey commended the investigatory work of Officers Ralph Nitz, Damaris Rivera and Kenneth Dunn. They also praised Assistant United States Attorney Susan B. Menzer who conducted the investigation and negotiated the plea in the case.

Gregory Scarborough, 25, of 1424 R Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., had his probation revoked and the original 18-year sentence by Superior Court Judge Susan R. Holmes Winfield imposed after he violated the conditions of his probation granted on November 21, 2003. On September 17, 2003, Scarborough pled guilty to three counts of burglary II and one count of receiving stolen property. On November 7, 2003, Judge Winfield sentenced Scarborough to five years of incarceration with three years of supervised release on each burglary count and three years incarceration with three years supervised release on the receiving stolen property charge. These sentences were ordered to run consecutively. Judge Winfield ordered the execution of jail sentences suspended to time served and granted Scarborough two years of probation (Case No. F-4063-03; PSA 304).

FACTS: On November 21, 2003, Judge Winfield set forth the following special conditions of probation: 120 days in-patient drug treatment followed by 120 days half-way house placement and payment of $400 to the victim's crime compensation fund.

On December 15, 2003, the Court issued an Order to Show Cause why Scarborough's probation should not be revoked based upon allegations that he tested positive for opiates on December 11, 2003, failed to successfully complete the Regional Addiction Prevention Inc. Drug Treatment Program, and his admission that he brought drugs from the jail and used them during the drug treatment program. Today, Judge Winfield accepted Scarborough's admission that he used opiates while in the treatment program and found that he violated the terms of his probation. Judge Winfield revoked Scarborough's probation after reminding him that when she granted probation she only gave him one chance at probation. She imposed her original sentence of a total of 18 years of incarceration.

According to the facts presented at the plea hearing on September 17, 2003, on July 8, 2003, at approximately 7:15 a.m., a residence located in the 1800 block of Calvert Street, N.W., was broken into through a front window. A 27-inch television and jewelry were taken from the residence. Detective Miguel Miranda of the Metropolitan Police Department responded to the residence and a witness advised him that it observed a male suspect with a cast on his arm climbing out of a window and carrying a television. The witness pointed out the suspect to Detective Miranda. The suspect was seen placing the television beside a car and then fleeing on foot. The suspect managed to escape. MPD officers looked inside the car and observed another television in the back seat. Also in plain view in the car were documents containing the name of Gregory Scarborough. A check of the car revealed that it belonged to Scarborough's mother.

A search warrant was executed on July 10, 2003, at Gregory Scarborough's residence. Scarborough was at home at the time and placed under arrest. He was transported to the 3rd District for processing. Scarborough waived his rights and agreed to an interview. During the interview, Scarborough confessed to burglarizing the residence in the 1800 block of Calvert Street, N.W., and an additional six D.C. residences from March to July 2003.

Specifically, Scarborough confessed to burglarizing a residence in the 1700 block of 17th Street, N.W., on March 27, 2003. Access to the residence was gained through a second story window by cutting a screen and forcing a window open. Jewelry was taken during that burglary and pawned at a local pawnshop. Scarborough also confessed to burglarizing a residence in the 1900 block of 17th Street, N.W., on May 6, 2003. He gained entrance to that residence by entering through an upper story window. Taken from that residence was a watch. The resident found a District of Columbia Permit issued in the name of Gregory E. Scarborough, Jr. with a photograph that had been dropped at the scene. On June 17, 2003, in the 1300 block of 15th Street, N.W., a burglary occurred wherein a camcorder and other items were taken. On June 17, 2003, Scarborough pawned the camcorder at a local pawnshop.

Through investigation by Detective David Swinson of the Metropolitan Police Department's Third District, a total of twenty-nine burglaries were tied to Scarborough. Property from nineteen of those burglaries was recovered and returned to the rightful owners.

The arrest and prosecution of Scarborough could not have been achieved without the efforts of the following individuals from the Metropolitan Police Department: Det. David Swinson, Det. Miguel Miranda, and Det. Joseph Radvansky, as well as Assistant United States Attorney Diane Lucas who prosecuted the case.

David Coate, also known as "Shane," a resident of 2101 4th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., pled guilty to Manslaughter, Arson, and Attempted Distribution of Cocaine late yesterday afternoon, December 11, 2003, before the Honorable Patricia A. Broderick of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. These charges arose from the January 2000 slaying of Nathaniel Lewis, of 1807 6th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.. By pleading guilty to these three charges, the defendant faces a maximum possible sentence of 280 to 840 months incarceration when he is sentenced on February 13, 2004. In the meantime, the defendant remains incarcerated without bond (Case No. F-5939-02; PSA 306).

FACTS: According to the government's proffer, the motive for the offense arose on January 1, 2000, when members of the Metropolitan Police Department executed a search warrant at 1807 6th Street, N.W., which was the primary residence of the decedent, Nathaniel Lewis. Mr. Lewis shared the house with the defendant's brother, who was a drug dealer and used the house as a "crack house" to sell his illegal wares; in return, Mr. Lewis received crack cocaine to support his own drug habit. After executing the search warrant, MPD officers arrested both Mr. Lewis and the defendant's brother. When the defendant learned that the District Court had subsequently released Mr. Lewis on his personal recognizance, but not his brother, the defendant became upset and assumed that Mr. Lewis was a "snitch."

On or about Tuesday, January 4, 2000, the defendant confronted Mr. Lewis at the house and accused Mr. Lewis of being a "snitch." Before leaving the house, the defendant spoke with Kamal Thomas, a crack addict who sometimes stayed at the house. The defendant gave Mr. Thomas some crack cocaine in order to enlist his help against Mr. Lewis.

According to the government's evidence, the defendant gave Mr. Thomas some crack cocaine in order to make sure that Mr. Lewis would be at the house later on that evening. Later that evening, Mr. Thomas heard people entering the house and then a commotion, which included Mr. Lewis shouting and gasping. After hearing silence, Mr. Thomas then came partially downstairs to see the defendant standing over the decedent, who was lying on the kitchen floor with a cord already wrapped around his throat. The defendant then instructed Mr. Thomas to put tape over his mouth, and Mr. Thomas did so. Mr. Lewis's body was then taken to the basement of the house. On January 6, 2000, the Fire Department arrived to extinguish a fire at the house, and discovered Mr. Lewis's body in the basement. The body had been bound and gagged prior to the fire. The medical examiner later determined the cause of death to be strangulation.

In the fall of 2002, the defendant was arrested and provided a statement to the police. He acknowledged providing cocaine to Mr. Thomas, but contended that it was for the purpose of having the decedent beaten up by Mr. Thomas. The defendant indicated that he believed Mr. Thomas would smoke the crack cocaine with the decedent before assaulting him. The defendant claimed he later found out that the decedent had been killed, and that the body was in the basement. The defendant told the police that he then went to a nearby gas station with an associate, and returned in order to start the fire and burn the house down.

In announcing the plea, United States Attorney Howard praised the efforts of Detectives Brett Smith and Gregory Sullivan of the Metropolitan Police Department, as well as D.C. Fire Department Arson investigators Kelton Ellerbee and Aaron Hazel. Mr. Howard also commended the outstanding efforts of a number of individuals who contributed to preparing the case for prosecution: Paralegal Specialist Robyne Griffin, legal assistant Stephanie Simpkins, and Kimberly Smith of litigation services. Mr. Howard also praised the excellent work of Assistant United States Attorney Daniel Butler, who handled the initial indictment work and investigation; Assistant United States Attorney George Eliopoulos, who completed the investigation and indictment; and Assistant United States Attorney Denise Chueng, who handled separate cases against the defendant. Finally, Mr. Howard thanked Assistant United States Attorneys Nicole Waid and Stephen J. Gripkey, who prepared the case for trial and took the week-before-trial plea.

Tyrone Smith, Jr., age 23, of 610 Emmanuel Road, N.W., pled guilty to shooting a victim in the 600 block of Emmanuel Road, N.W. in the Fall of 2003. Tyrone Smith, pled guilty on December 11, 2003 before Superior Court Judge Susan R. Winfield to one count of Assault with a Dangerous Weapon. Smith will continue to be held without bond pending his sentencing on February 5, 2004 (Case No. F-5998-03; PSA 314).

FACTS: According to the information provided during various court hearings, on September 27, 2003, at approximately 3:00 a.m., the victim and a witness, neither of whom knew Smith before this incident, accepted a ride home from him. All three of the parties arrived at 610 Emmanuel Court, N.W., Washington, D.C., and the victim entered Smith's basement apartment. The victim and Smith got into an argument, and Smith followed the victim into the stairwell of the apartment building. Smith then fired a single round into the victim's shoulder. A 10 mm shell casing and bullet were recovered from the hallway. Smith immediately left the scene.

Minutes after the shooting, Officer Gregory Kurtz observed Smith in the 900 block of M Street, N.W., which is approximately two or three blocks from 610 Emmanuel Court. Smith was standing near his car, which had its passenger door open and was wrapping some objects in a dark piece of clothing. At Officer Kurtz's direction, Smith placed the item to the ground. Contained within the clothing were two loaded guns-one 10 mm handgun and one 38 caliber handgun.

AUSA Denise Cheung handled the case, and Detectives Darin March and Vanessa Greene, and Officers Kurtz, Brian Devine, Charles Patrick, Darryl Arrington, Anthony Hector and Adrian Lancaster assisted in the successful arrest and prosecution of the matter.
